COMMENCING A NEWSERIES.

COMMENCING A NEW SERIES,
WITH Engravings from Pictures in the Royal Galleries at Windsor Castle, Buckingham Palace and Oaborne. Monthly Journal of the Arts. Price 75c.
With the year 1855 will commence a new and greatly enriched series of this already popular work, containing Pictures by ancient and modern masters, which we have been graciously permitted to angrave and issue by her Majesty Queen Victoria and his Royal Highness Prince Albert, from the private collections at Windsor Castle, Buckingham Palace and Osborne; also, Engravings of the Works in Sculpture in their possession.

Each monthly part of the Art Journal, therefore, will contain two fine engravings of Pictures in the Royal Collection, and one engraving of a work in sculpture.

tures in the Royal Collection, and one engraving of a work in sculpture.

With the new year will also commence a series of Illustrated Biographies of leading British Artists; The illustrations consisting of engravings on wood of their principal works, so as to exhibit the peculiar style and character of the leading painters of our school, and will be exceedingly beautiful specimens of art.

In addition we shall commence the year with a series of engravings—to extend probably to one hundred examples—of the principal and most valuable contents of the Museum of practical Art at Mariborough House. The engravings of these famous works cannot but be valuable to every class of producers of art manufacture.

Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine.

In these periodicals are contained the views moderately, though clearly and firmly expressed, of the three great parties in England—Tory, Whig and Radical—"Blackwood" and the "London Quarterly" are Tory; the "Edinburgh Review" Whig; and the "Westminister Review," Liberal. The "North British Review" owes its establishment to the last great ecclesiastical movement in Scotland, and is not ultrain its views on any one grand department of human knowledge; it was originally edited by Dr. Chalmers, and now, since his death, is conducted by his son-in-law, Dr. Hanna, associated with Sir David Brewster. Its literary character is of the highest order. The "Westminster," though reprinted under that title only, is published in London under the title of the Foreign Quarterly and Westminister," it being in fact a Union of the two reviews formerly published and printed under separate titles. It has, lished and printed under separate titles. It has, therefore, the advantage by this combination, of uniting in one work the best features of both as heretofore issued.
